PREFERRED CORPORATE ACCOMMODATION PROGRAMME

Our preferred corporate accommodation programme can help Travel Risk Organisations (TROs) offer their clients a wide range of corporate accommodation (both hotels and serviced accommodation) that has been independently verified to deliver the highest level of security and where the hotel proactively manages risk for their corporate guests.

Our programme enables TROs to provide reliable information on secure accommodation anywhere in the world to organisations with travelling employees. All hotels recommended by GSA have been individually accredited by expert security and safety professionals and independently certified by a government-regulated international awarding organisation.

HELP WHEREVER YOU ARE TRAVELLING

As the new ISO 31030 standard for travel risk management continues to be rolled out globally, organisations with travelling employees are under growing pressure to demonstrate effective duty of care to employees that need to travel to fulfil professional duties.

Accommodation is a significant risk area that companies need to consider, and they will be relying on the input of TROs to help them achieve the requisite levels demanded by the new standard. We help TROs provide lists of accommodation that complied with or exceeds best practice in safety and security.

In parts of the world where accredited corporate accommodation is unavailable, we can help TRO's identify risk and work in partnership to help deliver viable options for travelling employees. Additionally, we can provide on the spot advice on the levels of travel risk within a hotel, city, region or country, based on the company's own Open-Source Intelligence resources.

YOUR GO TO SUPPORT FOR HOTEL ASSESSMENT

For TROs that wish to build or maintain their own list of secure corporate accommodation, we can offer an effective way to maintain this programme on behalf of the TRO. We are used to carrying out in person and virtual security assessments on corporate accommodation and have the resources to manage hundreds of assessments over a short time frame.
