

CORPORATE ACCOMMODATION ACCREDITATION

- Ensure your RFP programmes reflect the importance of security and duty of care
- GSA can accredit all your approved accommodation saving time and cost
- Find best-in-class corporate accommodation anywhere in the world

REASSURANCE ACROSS ALL CORPORATE ACCOMMODATION

With the development of the ISO 31030 global standard for travel risk management, organisations with travelling employees are under an increased duty of care to ensure travellers stay in safe and secure hotels and serviced accommodation. Corporates that cannot demonstrate a proactive duty of care to travelling employees risk reputation damage, litigation and fines.

We can partner with you to ensure that all your hotels and serviced accommodation is operating at the highest levels of security and safety.

SAVING TIME AND MONEY

Typically, organisations that want to ensure high levels of security in corporate accommodation will consider one of two options:

- Security and compliance personnel audit every approved hotel globally in person. This is extremely expensive and time consuming.
- Request that hotels complete a survey or share information remotely. This process is less costly but does not provide the reassurance that many companies require

We offer a cost effective and reliable alternative. You can use our global network of trained assessors to ensure a consistently high standard of security is achieved across an entire portfolio of corporate accommodation, nationally, internationally or even globally.

SUPPLEMENTARY ACCOMMODATION

You can also secure access to our inventory of accredited hotels globally to supplement approved accommodation lists. We can provide best-in-class corporate accommodation in territories where you do not have established partners. This is particularly helpful in areas of high risk or where your employees rarely travel. Travel managers can be assured that wherever employees are travelling, they will be staying in secure accommodation.

SUPPORT FOR THE RFP PROCESS

Additionally, we can support companies looking to embed high levels of security into corporate accommodation programmes. We can offer advice on the best questions to include in an RFP and how to ensure the RFP process fully recognises the importance of high levels of security in corporate accommodation.

Often hotel chains and serviced accommodation providers will proactively request a GSA security accreditation to comply with a corporate RFP, helping companies ensure the highest levels of duty of care.

WHY CHOOSE GSA?

Accreditation through GSA enables hotels to publicly demonstrate commitment to the most stringent levels of duty of care to guests and to meet and exceed ISO 31030 which provides additional assurance to the safety and security of travellers.

GSA's senior management team is made up of former police officers and travel management experts at the most senior level. Our team was responsible for shaping ISO 31030 and creating the UK guidance on the standard issued by BSI. We have decades of experience in recognising the risks around hotels and serviced accommodation and helping hospitality venues and staff address these proactively.

Hotels that are accredited with the GSA standard can demonstrate to corporates, travel managers and the public that they have reached and exceeded rigorous security standards, including ISO 31030. These include:

- Strategic security planning with a comprehensive security policy and procedures
- Demonstrable physical and technical security, such as active CCTV cameras, alarms and other security
- A workforce that actively considers the security needs of the hotel's guests and embeds this into their day-to-day activities and engagements with the public

Accredited hotels receive a comprehensive security report and a certificate of accreditation. Accreditation lasts for 12 months and can be reviewed annually.
